

Trevor Single worked for over 30 years in a variety of posts in the UK Government, heading up a number of policy and legislative initiatives, and with regular engagement with Ministers and other key stakeholders. His work included directing the UK's first major reform of consumer credit legislation for over 30 years, and leading the UK delegation for three years in work with the European Commission and member states on the development of a new Consumer Credit European Directive in Brussels. Trevor's final post was heading the Business Relations team responsible for supporting the UK defence equipment manufacturers to bring added value to the UK economy.

Trevor left the DTI in 2006 and joined Choose Independence in providing telecare and telehealth consultancy advice and support. This included working with the UK's Telecare Services Association(TSA) on revising its Telecare Code of Practice that was launched in 2009.

He joined the TSA as its CEO in June of this year.